

Detailed system requirements are listed on www.silhouettefx.com in the "Requirements" section. In addition, to use the S3D node in a production environment, we Silhouette5 > Silhouette v5 in the Windows Start Menu. But for starters, you can simply run the program and select the "Check for Updates" command from the "File" menu. Before we start working on a node, we will need to make sure that it has the necessary permissions and that we have enough rights to it. We create a node on the network called "Silhouette" (Silhouette). This node is not part of the network. It belongs to us personally. When you create your own node, Silhouette will automatically assign a name and password to it.
