This is a Windows key generator that generates a license key for Windows 7, Windows 8/8.1, Windows Server 2012 and Windows Server 2008 R2 (although the key for Windows Server 2008 is a version number). This is a simple application, although some people might consider it a windows memory booster (if they also have a "memory booster" on their computer). The program will not create a new key, it will only regenerate an existing key. It will not work in safe mode. It is for restoring your license key after a fresh install of your operating system. License Key Verification: If you have a newer version of Windows, then the key will have changed. There is also a verification process where the company name and key are stored. To use the utility, you need to activate the license from the Windows Activation Page. License Key (by reinstall): If you reinstall a Windows version, then the key will be from the reinstallation. License Key (by activation): If you activate your copy of Windows after installing it, the key will be added to the license file (REG_SZ) in the following way: { "Manufacturer": "OEM", "ProductName": "Windows", "ProductType": "Desktop", "MfgVersion": "9.0.12.0", "LocationInfo": "{742C82F2-EB71-458B-B193-4C544518E32D}", "IsLoggedOn": "TRUE", "IsActivated": "TRUE" } License Key (by version number): If you have a specific version of Windows, then the key will be from the same version number.
